A memorandum of understanding (MoU) was signed on Tuesday between the CSIR-National Institute of Oceanography (CSIR-NIO) and BITS Pilani, K.K. Birla Goa Campus to establish a long-term partnership for education, training, and research in the fields of biology, chemistry, marine instrumentation, and high-performance computing.

The MoU was signed by Prof. Sunil Kumar Singh, director of CSIR-NIO, Prof. Suman Kundu, director of BITS Pilani, K.K. Birla Goa Campus in the presence of Prof. Meenal Kowshik, associate dean, Sponsored

Research and Consultancy Division, BITS Pilani, K.K. Birla, Goa Campus, and Dr. V.V. Sanil Kumar and Venkat Krishnamurthy of CSIR-NIO.

The joint capabilities of the two organisations in the particular domains of oceanography will now be used in a roadmap for future fruitful interactions.

Due to the systematic and concentrated research being done by CSIR-NIO in the areas of ocean data collection, environmental impact assessment, and ocean modelling, this collaboration will now make it easier to utilise and share the experience of both organisations with the most recent advancements in the oceanography.
